Report of Administration: Sean Rhiney, Director of Government Relations

- Chief role in political activities policies
- Policies to protect our non-profit status; IRS rule
- Lobbying, political and campaign activities policy update; apply every year and not only because it is a heightened election
- Voter registration tabling events throughout campus
 - Extremely important because college-age demographic is least likely to vote
- Can be removed from the voter roll if not voting in all elections in Ohio
- Policy lies in the provost's office; but has consultation from legal counsel office and government relations administrators
- Xavier hosting congressional debate on October 16th; mediated and coordinated by Cincinnati Enquirer (attendance could be up to 600)
 - Opportunity for students to attend and engage
 - Highly encourages student attendance; great privilege and responsibility for students to be a part of the space

Opinion Entries

- Poll workers needed; paid position and good behind the scenes experience
- Justice elevator not going to ground floor near caf; reach out to hall director so he can clarify why
